welcome to hkconnect

Dear leaders of today's Telecommunication Industry,

HKCOLO is proud to enlist Prosperity Connect's help to organize the 4th year of HKCONNECT, one of the regional most important networking industry event and to present the warmest welcome to all attendees from different parts of the world.

This year, HKCONNECT2008 has expanded into a 2-day networking event. Apart from our exclusive highlighted One-on-One meeting that act as a communication platform for the industry, we have arranged a series of conference sessions with tremendous slate of great speakers. The main purpose of the conference is to gather the leaders of global telecommunication industry together and explore a future direction for the market to increase more business opportunities for different sectors of telecom industry.

HKCONNECT2008 has assembled some of the most intelligent people in the telecommunication industry to address and discuss the changes of telecommunication technology, changes in the marketplace and customer segmentation, changes in the regulatory environment and government policies, and most of all, as Hong Kong is significant for her free market policy and changes in financial structure, the outbreak of global economic crisis will be a great challenge to the world and as well the telecommunication industry. HKCONNECT2008 is an excellent platform and provides a good timing for the industry to map out the appropriate strategies for future development and to tap a rich new phase of operational and business convergence.

We would like to send our heartfelt thanks to those who have sponsored our event this year, who have been continuously supporting HKCONNECT over the past years. It is because of our sponsors support and generosity that allows us in continuously providing this unique networking opportunity to all of you today.

We are delighted to welcome you to Hong Kong and wish you all have a productive HKCONNECT2008. Let us know what you think of the new arrangement of the conference anytime during HKCONNECT2008 or after the event, simply email us at hkconnect@hkcolo.com. Please do not hesitate to come forward with your own thoughts about the future of the industry, so you can get the long term business development benefit and communication with HKCONNECT attendees and HKCOLO Limited's clients throughout the year.

We trust that you will be generating numerous of business potentials today and we look forward to see you in our next event in 2009.

Yours Truly,

William Wai
Senior Vice-President
HKCOLO Limited

China TieTong Telecommunications Corporation is the wholly owned subsidiary of China Mobile, with Government approval to construct and operate an international telecommunications network.

The company has recently established a subsidiary in Hong Kong, China TieTong Group (HK) Co Ltd, which is the operating arm of the Group. This subsidiary has obtained the relevant telecommunications operator licence from Hong Kong's Office of the Telecommunications Authority (OFTA), so that in the near future it will be extending its communication bandwidth from Mainland China to Hong Kong and eventually across the world. The aim is to build a powerful platform for China TieTong's international presence and provide inbound communication services to China for both international and Hong Kong telecommunications operations.
